Contents

Preface
xvii Acknowledgments
xix

part I
Reading and Writing Like a Lawyer
1

chapter 1
Introduction to Legal Writing
3
1. Objective Documents
3
2. Persuasive Documents
4

chapter 2
Reading and Understanding Authorities
5
1. Reading Constitutions and Statutes
5
2. Reading and Briefing a Case
7
   Bostock-Ferari Amusement Co. v. Brocksmith
   Sample Case Brief 2.1

chapter 3
It Depends on the “Anchors”
14
1. Identifying the Anchors
15
2. Synthesizing the Anchors 15

chapter 4
Understanding Hierarchy of Authority
18
1. Primary Authorities
18
2. Secondary Authorities
27

chapter 5
The Format for Legal Analysis
28
1. CREAC
28
   Hamilton v. Walker
29
2. IRAC
30

chapter 6
The Format for Exam Essays
32
1. Read Twice
32
2. Identify Issues
34
3. Write in IRAC or CREAC
35
4. Proofread 40

part II
Objective Writing
43

chapter 7
Constructing CREAC in Objective Documents 45

chapter 8
Writing an Objective Conclusion
46
1. Step One: Use an Issue Statement as a Placeholder 46
2. Step Two: Develop Your Legal Question—The Question Presented 47
1. Step One: Organize Rules from General to Specific
2. Step Two: Include Quotations of Key Language
3. Step Three: Cite Correctly

chapter 10 Writing an Objective Explanation Section
1. Step One: Focus on Your Question
2. Step Two: Understand the Big Picture
3. Step Three: Use Cases to Describe Your Anchors

chapter 11 Writing an Objective Analysis Section
1. Step One: Start with a Broad Thesis
2. Step Two: Use Topic Sentences to Organize Your Arguments
3. Step Three: Analogize and Distinguish
4. Step Four: Detail Counterarguments; Then Refute and Resolve Them

chapter 12 Writing an Objective Conclusion part III Putting the Legal Memorandum Together

chapter 13 Incorporating Your CREAC into a Cohesive Document

chapter 14 Create a Template for Your Memo
1. Use a Formal Memorandum Heading
2. Create the Headings for the Additional Memo Parts chapter 15 Outline and Draft Your Facts Section

1. Identify the Important Facts
2. Tie the Story Together

chapter 16 Draft a Roadmap for Complex Memos

chapter 17 Create a Cohesive Document
1. Add Subheadings for Each CREAC in Multiple-Issue Memos
2. Add a Separate Conclusion Section if it Would Help the Reader
3. Review Your Entire Memo
4. Revise, Revise, Revise
5. Review Examples
   Example Memo 17.1
   Example Memo 17.2
   Example Memo 17.3

part IV Writing Tools for the New Legal Writer

chapter 18 Introduction to Grammar, Punctuation, and Style

chapter 19 Grammar Basics
1. Sentences 124
2. Commas—Five Rules That Could Save You Millions 127
3. Semicolons 131
4. Colons 132
5. Modifiers 133
6. Pronouns 134
7. Apostrophes 137
8. Hyphens 139

chapter 20 Grammar Principles for the New Legal Writer
1. Prefer the Active Voice 141
2. Use Parallel Construction 142
3. Quote with Care 143
4. Use Em-Dashes and Parentheses to Shift Emphasis 146

chapter 21 Plain Language
1. Make Every Word Count 149
2. Use Vigorous English 152
3. Use Short Words, Short Sentences, and Short Paragraphs 154

chapter 22 Confused, Misused, and Misspelled Words
1. Chart of Commonly Confused, Misused, and Misspelled Words 158

chapter 23 Writing Style

part V Persuasive Writing

chapter 24 Constructing CREAC in Persuasive Documents 163

chapter 25 Writing a Persuasive Conclusion
1. Step One: Identify the Requested Relief and the Issue 165
2. Step Two: State Your Conclusion and Give a Reason 166
3. Step Three: Develop a Theme 167
4. Step Four: Draft Your Point Headings 169

chapter 26 Writing a Persuasive Rule Section
1. Step One: Organize Rules from General to Specific 171
2. Step Two: Quote Only Key Language 174
3. Step Three: Check Your Citations 176

chapter 27 Writing a Persuasive Explanation Section
1. Step One: Categorize the Cases 177
2. Step Two: Identify the Anchors and Synthesize Multiple Cases 178
3. Step Three: Use Cases to Emphasize the Persuasive Anchors 179

chapter 28 Writing a Persuasive Analysis Section
1. Step One: Start Off Strong: Organize and Outline Your Analysis 189
2. Step Two: Start with a Broad Thesis That Incorporates Your Theme 190
3. Step Three: Use Topic Sentences to Organize Your Analysis, and Start with Your Best Argument 192
4. Step Four: Provide Factual Support for Each Argument by Recruiting Relevant Facts 193
5. Step Five: Provide Legal Support for Each Argument by Analogizing and Distinguishing Relevant Cases 195
6. Step Six: Affirmatively Refute Counterarguments 200

chapter 29 Writing a Persuasive Conclusion 204

part VI Putting Persuasive Documents Together 207 chapter 30 Introduction to Persuasive Documents 209 chapter 31 Trial Court Documents 210
1. Step One: Create a Template for Your Document 211
2. Step Two: Prepare a Persuasive Facts or Background Section 213
3. Step Three: Prepare a Legal Standard Section if Necessary 220
4. Step Four: Add Persuasive Roadmaps and Subheadings to Guide the Court 221
5. Step Five: Write a Compelling Introduction 223
6. Step Six: Scrutinize and Revise 224
   Example Motion 31.1 226
   Example Motion 31.2 233

chapter 32 Appellate Briefs 244
1. Step One: Create a Template Based on the Requirements of the Appellate Rules of Procedure and Local Rules 245
2. Step Two: Research and Draft the Standard of Review 247
3. Step Three: Prepare a Persuasive Issue Presented 248
4. Step Four: Draft a Persuasive Facts Section, Including Procedural History 249
5. Step Five: Write a Forceful Summary of Argument 250
6. Step Six: Create a Complete, Cohesive Document 251
7. Step Seven: Set Aside, Then Revise 252
   Example Appellate Brief 32.1 254

part VII Other Legal Communication 267 chapter 33 Introduction to Other Forms of Legal Communication 269 chapter 34 Letters 270
1. The Correct Date 271
2. The Method of Transmission 272
3. A Properly Formatted Recipient Name and Address 272
4. A Useful Re: Line 272
5. An Appropriate Greeting 273
6. A Professional Style That Is Tailored to the Recipient 273
7. A Customary Closing 275
8. Examples of Professional Letters 275 Example Letter 34.1 276
chapter 35 Email
1. A “To” Line That Includes Only the Correct and Necessary Recipients 282
2. A Subject Line That Is Brief, Substantive, and Specific 283
3. A Greeting That Is Professional 283
4. A Format and Writing Style That Is Simple and Direct 283
5. An Appropriate Closing and Signature Block 287
6. Attachments That Are Properly Titled and Attached 288
7. A Concern for Privilege and Privacy 288
8. Examples of Effective Emails 289
   Example Email 35.1 290
   Example Email 35.2 291
   Example Email 35.3 292
   Example Email 35.4 293
   Example Email 35.5 294
   Example Email 35.6 296

chapter 36 Messaging and New Technology 299
1. Err on the Side of Formality 299
2. Pause Before Pressing “Send” 300
3. Be Vigilant Regarding Confidentiality 300

chapter 37 Judicial Opinions 301
1. Step One: Identify the Issue(s) for Analysis 301
2. Step Two: Outline and Draft Each Part 303
3. Step Three: Proofread to Perfection 308
4. Example of Award-Winning Opinion Writing 308
   State v. Wiggins 309

chapter 38 Oral Arguments 313
1. Step One: Develop a Plan 314
2. Step Two: Prepare for a Conversation, Not a Speech 321 part VIII Research and Citation 327 chapter 39 Introduction to Legal Research and Citation 329 chapter 40 Legal Research Basics 330

1. The Process of Legal Research 330
2. The Sources for Legal Research 331
3. Legal Sources in Print and Online 332 chapter 41 Creating a Research Plan 335
1. Step One: Formulate a Research Question 335
2. Step Two: Identify the Relevant Jurisdiction 336
3. Step Three: Generate Search Terms 337
chapter 42  Smart Research Strategies  338
1.  Move from General to Specific  338
2.  Use Free Sources First  340
3.  Don’t Start from Scratch  341
   Example Statute 42.1
343
4.  Browse  344
5.  Build in Redundancy  345
6.  Run Searches of the Right Size on Fee-Based Platforms  346
7.  Validate and Update  347
8.  Cite Correctly  348

chapter 43  Citation  349
1.  Citation Is a Language  349
2.  Master the Most Common Formats and Be Consistent  350
3.  Use the Index, Tables, and Quick Reference Guides for Everything Else  359
4.  Learn the Rules That Arise Frequently  359
5.  Cite Correctly as You Write  364

Index  365